Mission

The mission of The Desoto County Sheriff's Department is to provide professional detention services with prescribed ethical and constitutional limits. The Desoto County Sheriff's Department enforces facility rules and the law in a fair and impartial manner recognizing the statutory, judicial and constitutional rights of all persons, within the budgetary and other limits placed upon us.

Message from the Director

A message from Director Wicker: You are here for one or more reasons. While it certainly cannot be described as a pleasant experience, it hopefully will be a time where you stop reflect on your life; the past, the present, and future. Your stay here will be aided greatly by following a few simple rules.

1. Read and learn this handbook. Many of the questions you will have about visitation, commissary, medical care, and other day to day matters important to you, can be found in the handbook.
2. Follow the orders of the detention officers and staff members. They are here to protect you as well as manage you. Obey their orders quickly do not argue with them. If you fell a member of the staff is in error, you may file a written grievance at the appropriate time.
3. Do not become involved in arguments with other inmates. If you and another inmate disagree; or, if you are threatened, assaulted or victimized in any way, notify a detention officer or staff member at once. Le the detention officer or staff member resolves the incident do not attempt to take matters in your own hands.
4. Keep yourself and your area clean. It is your responsibility to keep yourself clean and take a shower once a day. It is your responsibility to keep your cell, day room, and pod clean and sanitary.
5. No Smoking. Smoking is prohibited in all area of the Desoto County Detention Facility. The possession of tobacco products of any kind by an inmate is prohibited.
6. Remember the golden rule. Treat detention officers, staff members, and your fellow inmates in the same way you would want them to treat you.

This handbook cannot anticipate every situation which you may encounter. When established rules and procedures do not provide the answer, consult with the on duty staff, they will tell you what to do.

Chad M. Wicker
Director of Detention Services

Identification Wristbands

When you are processed into the facility, an identification wristband was placed on your wrist. The wristband is very important. The services you receive while housed in this facility depends on this wristband. You are required to wear it at all times. The removal of the wristband will result in disciplinary action. If your wristband breaks or falls off, you must report it immediately to a detention officer. Do not tamper with or alter this wristband in anyway. There will be a replacement fee of $5.00 deducted from your commissary account for any wristband that has to be replaced due to detainee neglect, damage, or loss.

The Prison Rape Elimination Act of 2003

This act was entered into federal law establishing a zero tolerance approach to prison rape and sexual assaults, which makes identification, prosecution, and elimination of prison rape a top priority of correctional agencies and institutions across the nation. As a new inmate at this facility, you are notified of the zero tolerance for sexual assaults, rapes, and/or sexual misconduct between inmates/inmates and inmates/staff will not be tolerated. An abusive sexual act is one in which a person engages in sexual contact with another person without their permission. Even sexual contact within the institution with permission is prohibited. In the event any sexual misconduct is deemed inappropriate, it will be investigated as a crime. The criminal investigation will be turned over for prosecution. In the event a sexual assault is committed upon you by staff or other inmates you may report this sexual assault/abuse in the following ways:

1. Immediately report the incident to a staff member. You can tell a jailer, chaplain, medical staff member, ranking officer, or any other staff member.
2. File a grievance
3. Write directly to senior staff members
4. Call family members collect to have them call the jail administrator.
5. Seek medical assistance. You must seek medical assistance if:
 - a. You have been sexually assaulted
 - b. You may be pregnant
 - c. You may have been exposed to HIV virus or sexually transmitted diseases.
6. May seek counseling and/or advice from a psychologist or chaplain. Crisis counseling and mental health counseling will be made available to you
7. Once the sexual assault has been reported or is other found to have occurred, the sheriff's office will immediately initiate an investigation. Other investigating agencies will be called into assist with this process. The purpose of the investigation is to determine the nature and extent of the abuse/assault. You may be asked to testify during the court proceedings. You will be offered immediate protection
8. Information covering the identity of the victim reporting the sexual assault will be limited to those who have "a need to know" in order to make proper decisions during the investigative process.
9. Sexual assault is a serious crime, and the sheriff's office will investigate any accusation. Also, if you are a perpetrator, you will be disciplined to the fullest extent and prosecuted. You have the right to be safe from sexual assault. You should not be persuaded into any sexual act. You do not have to tolerate sexual assaults or pressure to engage in unwanted sexual behavior regardless of your age, size, race, or ethnicity. Regardless of sexual orientation, you have the right to be safe from unwanted sexual advances and/or acts.
